Admission Requirements and Procedure

Applicants must have completed secondary education and passed a state final graduation examination. Applicants must also have knowledge of secondary school mathematics and the basics of social sciences at such a level that the applicant is able to continue in the knowledge of secondary school and to study subjects of the study programme.

Successful completion of the admission process is a precondition for acceptance into the programme.

If the number of candidates exceeds the faculty capacity, the ranking of admitted candidates will be decided on the basis of an assessment of the candidate's language skills and the results of secondary school mathematics, with preference given to those who have passed the graduation examination or its mathematics equivalent.

A candidate can achieve a maximum of 150 points for language skills and 150 points for mathematics skills.

Applicants must be proficient in English to successfully pass the entrance exam and to complete each course in the programme.

The admission test is comprised of a written examination which assesses the applicant's general knowledge of the English language. Applicants from third countries might be subject to examination by electronic means. The language portion of the admission test is worth a maximum of 150 points.

Adequate knowledge of English is demonstrated by all aspects of the application including selected language certificates with at least B2 level (e.g. IELTS, ESOL, TOEFL, Slovak Maturita Exam), unless English is a native language. In case that the applicant does not have a language certificate available, the knowledge of English will be subject to written examination – maximum 150 points.*

\ Minimum number of points is not specified. The final evaluation of the applicant's language knowledge will be assessed overallly. If there are concerns as to the level of English knowledge of the applicant, but there is a certain potential of improvement, the Faculty of Law will provide additional language courses for selected applicants.*

Faculty of Law, Comenius University in Bratislava - Basic Information

„Ius est ars boni et aequi.“ (Law is the art of the good and the just.) sounds in the heart of the faculty building since 1921, when the Faculty of Law started its activities, till the present day.

Faculty is part of the Comenius University in Bratislava (www.uniba.sk/en) and it is the oldest and, according to the most current evaluations, also the best school of law in Slovakia.

Faculty of Law is accredited for legal education in bachelor (Bc.), master (Mgr.) and doctorate (PhD.) programs for studies as well as for rigorosum procedure (academic degree JUDr.). Among foreign lawyers, rigorosum procedure in English or German language or the PhD. study in external form in English language became popular. Faculty applies a credit system of education based on the principles of the internationally recognized European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS).

The Faculty of Law has its historical building having entrance from Šafárikovo námestie (square) and its new building having its entrance on the opposite side of the complex - from Muzejná Street. Both, the new and the historical buildings are interconnected.

The most important spaces (like library or entrance hall) are covered by Wi-Fi signal. Obviously, computers are available for students in the library, in specialized rooms as well as behind the entrance of the new building.

The Law Library is situated on the 5th floor of the new building. It serves the students, teachers, researchers and the general public. It keeps approx. 80 000 books covering all branches of law and related fields. In addition, the Law Library subscribes to about 250 titles of periodicals and keeps electronic databases of legal literature (also in English language).

The European Documentation Centre (EDC) is being a part of the Law Library since 1991. EDC regularly receives one copy of publications published by the official European Union publisher sited in Luxembourg. The most documents received are in the English language, since 2004 also in the Slovak language.

Students of the Faculty of Law can use also the University Library, reconstructed in 2006 and located in historical buildings at Ventúrska Street and Klariská Street (see www.ulib.sk/english/).

Accommodation is provided in the Dormitory (student residence) Družba, Botanická 25, Bratislava, located in a nice surrounding next to the river Danube, around 10 minutes by tram from the Faculty of Law.

We can secure also accommodation for disabled persons, however, it is advisable to inform the Dormitory in advance, as the places are limited. You can get all necessary information step by step at www.druzba.uniba.sk/en. ## Studying in Slovakia

Slovakia is a country which can offer boundless opportunities when it comes to culture, and entertainment. In winter our mountains offer good quality ski resorts with well-prepared downhill slopes and cross-country trails opened usually from November to the end of April. In summer you can choose between cycling, rafting, trekking, hiking, horse riding, etc. During the whole year you can swim in the thermal swimming pools almost everywhere in Slovakia!

Why to study in Bratislava?

Thanks to its central position in Europe, Bratislava has always been a crossroad of cultures (Vienna-Budapest-Bratislava). Museums and galleries exhibit this heritage. They are the key to understanding the culture, the fascinating history of the nation as well as the natural landscape.

Due to its proximity to Vienna, there are also several possibilities to experience the day-to-day life of international organizations as the UN or OSCE. Moreover,

There are numerous theatres, opera and ballet companies, chamber orchestras and symphony orchestras which represent the national cultural heritage. It is right here, in the country of musicians and painters, where Andy Warhol has his origins.

How to get to Bratislava?

To reach Bratislava by plane, students can fly to M.R. Stefanik Bratislava International Airport which is situated only half an hour drive by bus from the centre of the town.

Another very convenient option is the Vienna International Airport, which is located only 50km from Bratislava. You can take a shuttle bus line to Bratislava from there.

Programme Overview

Master's degree programme – Master in Law is a programme offered by the Faculty of Law, Comenius University in Bratislava. As one of the few Faculties of Law in the Central and Eastern Europe, it offers a complete two-year programme in English. Unlike other Faculties of Law in the region our programme is neither only certified postgraduate programme or life-long education, nor Master degree programme in the non-legal field of study e.g. legal specifics. The graduate of the program will acquire a full Master degree in Laws that allows him to enrol to any of the professional chambers in Slovakia or to practice any of the legal professions.

The philosophy of the Master's degree programme – The goal of the Master in Law programme is to offer students a broad platform on which to design their own course of study within the parameters set by the Faculty of Law, Comenius University in Bratislava. The Master's degree programme offers an innovative legal education in accordance with foreign, mainly Western European, models. It was implemented as a result of the Foreign Language Master Degree Program project "Law of European Integration and Globalization", which was co-financed by the European Union through the European Social Fund within the operational programme Education.

Since the inception of the Master of Law programme three years ago, the Faculty of Law has introduced and taught a considerable number of new courses. Along with introducing new content, the Faculty has embraced the most modern, innovative teaching methods, with an emphasis on gaining practical skills through clinical education and moot courts.

Programme Structure

All students must satisfactorily complete a minimum of 120 ECTS in two academic years including a master thesis and a state examination. Mandatory courses of the programme comprise 64 ECTS. Minimum of 40 ECTS shall be chosen from the mandatory-elective courses including participation in one of the moot courts. The remaining 16 ECTS shall be selected by the student from the list of elective courses. Some electives may be offered on a temporary basis.

* LIT = Law of International Trade; LIO = Law of International Organizations

The Master of Law programme is not simply about memorizing information. Instead, the programme develops the critical thinking skills necessary to synthesise and apply all relevant sources of law to solve problems in rapidly changing world.

International Moot Courts

The Master's degree program provides active and talented students the opportunity to apply their theoretical knowledge and skills in the realistic and demanding environment of international law competitions. These competitions are comprised of the best law students from around the world who meet as counsels for adversary parties in moot court proceedings. Students thus have a unique opportunity to compare themselves with colleagues from around the globe and present their legal arguments in front of an international panel of distinguished legal practitioners acting as presiding judges. Every student of the Master's degree program must participate in one of the moot court courses valued 5+5 ECTS. The most successful students are selected to represent the Faculty of Law at international competitions. The aim of the program is to develop highly effective analytical and public speaking skills in the context of a legal oral argument. Students are prepared and encouraged to participate in the following prestigious international moot courts:

- European Law Moot Court Competition (ELMC)
- Central and East European Moot Competition (CEEMC)
- Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot (Vis Moot)
- Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition (Jessup)
- International Criminal Court Trial Competition (ICC Trial Competition)
- European Human Rights Moot Court Competition (EHRMCC)
